

Exceptional double win for Philippe Briand at ISS Awards: Best Sail 40m+ for Vertigo and Best Power 40-65m for Vitruvius 55m Galileo G

The remarkable success of Vertigo, designed by Philippe Briand and built by Alloy Yachts, continued last week with the 67.2m ketch scooping another award. Establishing a unique position within the industry, Philippe Briand also picked up an award for the Vitruvius 55m 'Galileo G' built by Picchiotti.

The 22nd International Superyacht Society Design & Leadership Awards gala took place in Fort Lauderdale with the two designs taking home "Best sail 40m+" and "Best Power 40-65m". The peer-reviewed ISS awards recognise achievement of those who have helped to raise the standards of design, construction, maintenance and repair in the large yacht industry.

Winning awards for the design of both motor and sailing yachts is an exclusive situation for a designer. These awards recognize the outstanding craftsmanship completed by the shipyards; Alloy Yachts and Picchiotti. Philippe Briand would like to express his immense gratitude to the owners without whom the projects would not have been possible.
